HOAGLAND'S NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!

W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,

Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

Murder in Arkansas.

Petitions against the exclusion of the Bible from Public Schools are extensively circulated, and a meeting on the subject will be held to-night.

Death of John Bell.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 10.—Hon. John Bell died at 2 o'clock A. M. to-day, at his residence at the Columbia Iron Works. He had been confined to his bed for several weeks with fever, but the cause of his death was suffocation from an accumulation of secretions of air in the chambers of the lungs. His remains will be brought to Nashville for interment.

International Exposition.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—A large meeting was held to-night to consider the subject of holding an International Exhibition at Washington in 1871. Many of the principal business men were present, who argued that such an exposition would do more than anything else to silence the cry for the removal of the capital. The sanction of Congress and the Executive Departments were deemed essential to its success. A committee of five gentlemen were appointed to co-operate with a similar committee appointed by the City Hall meeting on the same subject.

Boston Dispatch.

Chicago Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Charles H. Wright, chief editor of the Times, died yesterday of heart disease. He had been in perfect health up to the time of his death, which occurred immediately after rising in the morning. The deceased was very popular, and the papers all contain eulogistic obituaries of him.

George D. Ward has been employed as attorney to represent all the Shaker Committees in the country to argue the case before Commissioner Delano, in his ruling that in making income returns, each society shall be treated as one person, and only allowed the deduction of $1,000. The Shakers claim that a fair construction of the law would allow $1,000 exemption to every five individuals, that being the general average of a family.

Supervising architect Mullett left for San Francisco yesterday to inspect the Mint building.

The Late Hurricane.

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—The damage to the fruit crop in the vicinity of this city is very great. Many farmers lost their entire crop—the trees and all.

Probable Cause of the Avondale Disaster

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Dispatches state that there long has been a feud between the Welch and Irish miners. The cereal crops of Russia are good, except in the northern provinces, where the yield is only half the average.

The Morning Post says the Pope is about to make great efforts to convert the negroes in Africa. Two hundred are now studying for the priesthood.

The Times has an article on the subject of Sickles' note to the Spanish Government. It says it is hardly credible that America contemplates the recognition of Cuba, while Spain has little to lose except the Island. It adds, she must consent to abandon it.

The Telegraph has an article on the same subject. It says the American action in this respect is the same as that England was so much blamed for, though the cause is not precisely parallel. The Cubans are absolutely without strength, without civil or military recognition, and without an established government. If the Americans cannot vindicate their action by the plea that they cannot remain indifferent to the struggle of a friendly people for freedom and independence, then England, in 1861, acted in the manner the Americans now sanction.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—Official papers say the Emperor is entirely recovered.

Riotous demonstrations have taken place at Madrid, but there are no particulars.

It is reported that the Pasha of Egypt has submitted to the Sultan in all points, except the matter of the Budget and loans. The great powers will bring a strong pressure to bear on the Sublime Porte against pushing matters to extremes.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—The official papers announce that the condition of the Emperor is satisfactory, and he has asked the consent of his physicians to go out into the open air. It is considered probable that the Empress will undertake her journey to the east in a short time.

The Opinion Nationale demands the immediate completion of the Senatus Consultum. Fears are entertained of a return of the Emperor's sickness; a fact which makes it exceedingly important that the Constitution of the Government should be well settled. Without this a revolution is certain in the event of any change of sovereign.

The Emperor arrived at Paris this evening. He visited the boulevards by the rue De Lapax and returned to St. Cloud by the Champs Elysees.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The Economist says the prevailing question is not solicitude regarding Napoleon's health, but the consequence of the discontinuance of the despotism which must occur by a change in the political system, on his death which, whenever it comes, will be a relief to the human race.

The Lloyds are to build three steamers for the West India trade.

The rumor that negotiations are pending for the entrance of Bavaria and Baden in the North German Confederation are denied.

John Bright, in a letter, says a good harvest will tend to restore health to the general trade of the country. When you have a sufficient supply of cotton Lancashire will recover from her distressed condition. It is more cotton we want, not more taxes on imports. The Times, in an article on the cotton supply, says the times have changed since the time when a good cotton supply in the United States carried satisfactory assurance to the manufacturers and workingmen of Lancashire. The sudden destruction of the old cotton trade has been attended with the destruction of the old condition, though the cotton supply has come back again. New fields and new factories have been opened. More extensive demands for the raw material raises the price, which deprives us of the condition essential to the superiority we once maintained.

Virginia City Dispatch.

VIRGINIA, Sept. 11.—The city is very quiet. So little business for the police courts that night before last the police arrested four young ladies of easy virtue for singing "We Won't go Home till Morning" on the street, while returning to their respective seraglios. They were fined $10 each in Judge Livingston's court yesterday.

It is reported that the young and beautiful partner of one of our prominent merchants has left for parts unknown, without the knowledge or consent of her liege lord; cause not transpired.

The Martinetti Troupe is still playing at Piper's Opera House to crowded houses.

Man Killed in Jackson County.

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 11.—A man named Gilford B Comstock was accidentally shot and killed near Sterlingville, in this county to day, by a man named Silas Burr. The parties were out hunting, and Burr unfortunately mistook his comrade for a deer, shooting at him and killing him instantly.

Movements of General Thomas.

SAN JUAN ISLAND, Sept. 9.—The steamer Fideliter, with Gen. Thomas and staff on board, arrived to-day from Sitka, all well. Sailed at 2 P. M. for San Francisco via Victoria.

"PAT HIM."—This is the advice of the American Stock Journal, an interesting publication devoted to the interest of farm animals. The writer says:

"We sometimes see men having the care of and driving a team of horses or mules, whipping the poor animals because they do not understand their wishes. Many a time the leader horse or mule is unmercifully beating for no other reason than that the driver's order is not understood. If the driver, in such a case, should speak gently to the leader, pat it a few times on the neck to reassure it of his friendship, take hold of his bridle and lead it a few steps in the direction he wishes to go, and all this without any excitement or anger on his part, the leader will always do his best to please him. In driving a horse to a carriage, however gentle and well-trained he may be, something may happen to alarm or frighten him, this is no fault of his—he cannot help it. All he needs is a word or two of encouragement, gently spoken, to reassure him of his master's care and presence, and that all is right. There should be no whipping done. The driver should recollect that he gets alarmed or frightened too sometimes, and would think hard of being whipped for it."

The Arkansas negroes have a fine plan—to pre-empt lands and hire Chinese laborers to work them.

The Siamese Twins, Chang and Eng, with their daughters, have returned to their homes in North Carolina.

Tennyson has returned from Switzerland, utterly disgusted. Wherever he went he was mobbed by tourists.

John Allen, of wickedest-man-in-New-York notoriety has become "respectable and obscure, commonplace and unknown."

John C. Breckinridge recently made his first appearance at the bar since the war. The theater of this interesting event was Lexington, Ky., and the case, as a Louisville paper assures us, was an "obtuse" one.

Governor Palmer, of Illinois, has appointed a full list of delegates from that State to the National Capital Convention in St. Louis. General John A. Logan and ex-Governor Oglesby, are among them.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

Illinois is to have a new Capitol at Springfield. The plans, specifications and estimates of the Commissioners have just been officially approved. The entire cost, exclusive of the foundation, is limited to $3,000,000.

Nine thousand Chinese laborers have already been contracted for in South Carolina. One thousand are to be employed on the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad, and another thousand are to go to Columbia. No advances are required from the planters.

The Mobile Register is very unhappy [illegible] Prof. Northrop, of Yale, has been elected President of the University of Alabama. Raphael Semmes, the rebel pirate, was the Register's man for the position, and it thinks [illegible] Southerner should be displeased at his defeat.

The Newark Courier denies that Mr. Frelinghuysen is a candidate for a Circuit Judgeship under the new law, and says that the appointment will probably be tendered to Joseph P. Bradley, of that city, who is strongly urged for the position by leading members of the bar, prominent citizens in different States, and by a [illegible] in President Grant's Cabinet.

The annual war dance of the Indians on the upper Missouri is thus described: "During the dance incisions are made in the skins of the male Indians. Buffalo thongs or strings are run through these incisions, and some heavy objects, generally the heads of buffaloes, are attached. The Indian who pulls the weight the greatest distance and at the fastest speed gains the honor, and is made famous according to his degree of fortitude."

The military authorities have refused permission to the owners of lots on Sullivan's Island, in Charleston Harbor, to level the dismantled fortifications. The Charleston Courier characterizes this proceeding as high-handed, to use the mildest term, and says that the State [illegible] to the United States authorities only the land occupied by Fort Moultrie and one hundred yards on each side. The matter will be tested in the United States Court.

Statistics of Benton county: From the returns of Assessor Vidito we get the following statistics of the county: Whole number of polls, 786. Total number of acres of land upon the books, 172,615. Of this [illegible], 20,000 acres are covered by [illegible], so that parties owning the same, pay nothing but poll tax. Total [illegible] of taxable property in the county for the year 1869, $1,160,970.

From the Corvallis Gazette: We were surprised, in riding through the country between this place and Portland, since the late rains, to find so much grain, especially wheat, in the field. The loss in Marion, Clackamas and Polk counties, we should judge, is much heavier than in Benton. A gentleman doing business at [illegible] Polk county, informed us that at least one-third of the wheat crop in that vicinity had been damaged.

From the Albany D[illegible]: On last Wednesday morning, while Mr. John Waible, living at J. B. The Sacramento Reporter (Democratic) estimates that the California Legislature will stand as follows: Senate, Democrats, 28, Republicans, 12; House, Democrats, 54, Republicans, 15.

Says the Sacramento Record: "Amid the surprise of our defeat in Sacramento county, there is satisfaction in witnessing the spirit in which Republicans take it. It is accepted on all hands as a disaster attributable to our own indifference and supineness and disaffection." The Republican vote in Sacramento was 1,000 votes below the strength of the party.

Live for Something

Live for something—be [illegible]
[illegible]
Sit not down in useless dreaming
Labor is the sweetest joy
Folded hands are ever weary
Selfish hearts are never gay
Life for thee hath many duties
Active be then while you may

Scatter blessings in thy pathway
Gentle words and cheering smiles
Better are than gold and silver,
With their grief dispelling wiles
As the pleasant sunshine falleth
Ever on the grateful earth
So let sympathy and kindness
Gladden well the darkened hearth

Hearts there are oppressed and weary
Drop the tear of sympathy
Whisper words of hope and comfort—
Give and thy reward shall be
Joy unto thy soul returning
From the perfect fountain head
Freely, as thou freely givest,
Shall the grateful light be shed

Mrs Stowe and Lady Byron Again

[From the N Y Evening Post August 7]

The recent revelations of Mrs Stowe concerning the unhappy quarrel of Lord and Lady Byron have naturally elicited abundant commentary from the daily press of the country, and doubtless at this moment the English journals are discussing the truth or falsity of the main charge with more or less acumen and acrimony In America, with a single exception, the daily and weekly papers have treated it from the one side or the other, of belief or indignant rejection, a few writers sustaining Mrs Stowe, but by far the greater number discrediting her statements or pointing out their inconsistency with the acknowledged facts of the Byron scandal The better opinion on all hands is unquestionably that, true or false, the story was not fit to be told, and the interests of morality had been better consulted by consigning the long concealed horror to oblivion. The single exception to which we have referred in the general line of comment is the Nation This journal does not altogether reject the dreadful accusation against Lord Byron and Augusta Leigh, but it convicts Mrs Stowe of slandering the fame of Lady Byron in making her an accessory after and during the fact to the hideous guilt of brother and sister The Nation says

"We were told the main facts of this history something more than ten years ago and this is how it was told to us At whatever time the incestuous connection between Byron and his sister may have begun Lady Byron knew nothing of it, as we heard the story, until after the birth of her child Sometime after that event, probably about the beginning of January, 1816, Byron told her of the intrigue saying that he had never loved any other woman than the partner of his guilt She naturally, supposed it to be a delusion of insanity, and it was under this impression that she consulted Doctor Baillie about him, which is one of his main charges against her in his letters and in "Don Juan" It was while under this belief that she wrote the playful letter to Byron, after leaving him which is also one of the counts in the indictment against her After reaching Kirkby Mallory, her father's house, she had certain proofs of the truth of what her husband had told her, and from which time she left him forever."

"Now, we do not affirm that this version of the story is absolutely authentic We tell it as it was told to us, but most certainly it is inherently more probable than the one given by Mrs Stowe. It is a key to the whole mystery, and the solution is greatly honorable to Lady Byron It accounts for her silence as to the cause of the separation Her lips were sealed as long as Mrs Leigh lived It accounts for her consultation with Dr Baillie and for her letter after leaving Byron and before knowing that a separation was inevitable It accounts, too, for Dr. Lushington's statements [illegible] saying that 'a reconciliation was impossible,' and that 'if such an [illegible] he could not profess [illegible] otherwise, take any part toward [illegible]

All this is very different from Mrs. Stowe's [illegible] Lady Byron lived with her husband [illegible] of the revolting secret [illegible] she knew it throughout the whole of their conjugal intercourse; nay, [illegible] meaning in the "two years of [illegible] struggle," that Lord Byron [illegible] before their marriage.

We cannot remain long in doubt as to the truth of the chief damning allegation. There must be people living in England who can settle it beyond further dispute, if it be true, and it is due to all parties and to society itself that, since Mrs. Stowe has brought the charge in the name of Lady Byron, all the knowledge that may exist with regard to the matter may be made known.

[illegible] and Her Colonies

Even Mr. Gladstone announces himself a convert to the comparatively new British doctrine that colonies are a weakness to the empire, and the sooner they are cut loose from the mother country and set up for themselves, the better for both. In truth, the ablest statesmen of England are now a unit in support of this theory. Their influence is having its effect on the whole British nation, too The pr[illegible] the best exponent of public feeling—is becoming almost unanimous in this opinion. The editorial columns of the London papers teem with suggestions and reflections to the effect that as soon as Canada or Australia, or New Zealand, wish to cut loose England will bid them go and welcome she will not desert them if they cling to her, but she would just as soon they wouldn't cling These papers freely acknowledge the inability of the mother country to defend these big and distant bantlings in case of war Indeed the New Zealanders had a practical exemplification of this truth very recently England refused to defend them from the Maories telling them, "they must look out for themselves."

It has evidently become the prevalent view in England that colonial possessions are a mistake, that they cause more trouble than they are worth, and that the best thing England can do with those that still own allegiance to her is to divest herself of all responsibility for their protection or support. Even India is not exempt from the operation of this new policy. The Positivist clique, which has considerable influence in Great Britain strenuously argues for the autonomy of India, as well as of all the other colonies In fact a London paper expressed nearly the universal English conviction the other day when it said 'Our great difficulty is to force upon them (the colonists) as much independence as we wish them to enjoy A declaration of independence on the part, for instance of Canada, would be hailed with satisfaction The same state of feeling shows forth indirectly when the English journals urge Spain to give or sell Cuba to the United States They are strongly impressed with the fact that colonial Cuba is a source of weakness and not of strength to Spain, and they advise her to lop off the excrescence. Parliament grumbled loudly the other week when called on to vote the Canadian Dominion a million or so to make up its deficit and the private opinion was then expressed that the colonies were humbugs In 1776 the English fought with all their force to retain their colonies When the centennial of that memorable date comes round we shall not be much surprised to see England struggling to get rid of her costly dependencies and telling them that as they are of age they can take care of themselves

In a letter to Mr Corry, of the Cincinnati Commoner, Hon Geo E Pugh says

Mr Vallandigham as you say wishes a quiet canvass Is he the quiet man who sent for me at 11 o clock at night and required of me as a friend, upon personal adjuration to make the application (which I did make) the next morning for a writ of habeas corpus? I have read of many singular changes, but of all those of Mr Vallandigham and yourself fill me with most amazement '

Nasby, from the obscure retreat of an Ohio country tavern, welcomes the new candidate of the Democracy thus heartily ' George H Pendleton is the nashun's hope His politikle principles are so near like mine that he could to-day carry Kentucky by a overwhelming majority There ain't a Confedrit soljer in that State who woodent vote for him cheerfly Therefore let the Democracy uv Ohio buckle on their armor and gird up their loins '

THE EQUALIZER!

Treating Disease by Vacuum!

DR. H. A BODMAN

HAVING PURCHASED, HADFIELD'S EQUALIZER and the Patent Right for Multnomah county, would respectfully inform his friends and the public generally that he is prepared to treat successfully those Chronic cases on whom all other means of cure have failed

Having used this Instrument in connection with his former practice for about three months he is satisfied that it will accomplish all that is claimed for it in curing Chronic Disease He does not believe in the system of advertising cases cured but any number of such may be seen on record at his office consisting principally of Rheumatism Neuralgia, Paralysis, Curvature of the Spine Nervous Debility Dyspepsia Weak Chests Asthma Narrow Chests, Weak Lungs, Weak Backs Weak Stiff and Rheumatic Limbs, Sciatica, Spasms Epilepsy Palsy, St Vitus Dance Prolapsus Uteri Obstructed Menstruation with all their concomitant Diseases Impotency and all kinds of weaknesses of the Generative Organs Spermatorrhœa confidently cured in from four to six weeks without medicine.

He uses other remedies when necessary but the Equalizer generally performs the cure without the aid of any medicines whatever It brings a greater supply of blood and nutrition to all weak parts, thus creating new life and tone, and health, and strength in those parts It breaks up congestion and inflammation by equalizing the circulation throughout every part of the system

Give it a fair trial and you will be satisfied with the results It has been examined by thousands of physicians of all Schools of Medicine, and there has not been one dissenting voice to the correctness of the principle; all acknowledge that it fills a vacuum in the Science of Medicine

OLYMPIA W T March 27 1869

C A WHITE Esq —Dear Sir Having examined your original map embracing that portion of Washington Territory west of the Cascade Range, I desire to add my testimony to its value Having been engaged for a number of years in the surveys from Cape Flattery to the Head of Puget Sound I have examined this portion of your map more critically than others and I take pleasure in [illegible] its accuracy

This map will fill a want that has long been felt not only among the residents of this Territory but others who are desirous of obtaining information of this portion of the Far West and I trust that we shall soon see it in a form suitable for general distribution
JAS S LAWSON

SUPREME COURT PROCEEDINGS —Salem, Sept 10th

State, respondent, vs Pike, appellant

Per Wilson, J. In a criminal case on appeal an assignment of error need be made if required by the appellant, if required by respondent shall on order of the Court have made an assignment within the time prescribed by [illegible] filed and before the trial term the opposite party [illegible] in this court.

School District No 60 vs School District No 19. Appeal from Lane county.

Prim, J. This case was decided at the last term and now respondent asks for a re hearing upon notice [illegible] only given. The notice was not given until after the adjournment of the Court at the last term and the reason assigned for not giving the notice at the last term was that respondent did not know of the judgment until after adjournment of the Court.

The reason assigned for making this motion is that some of the facts stated in appellant's brief were not true [illegible] that were so [illegible] that it would be very hard for a re hearing. It would certainly be a very bad presumption to assume that the Court decided erroneously because of any such statement.

But we have again looked into the record and are satisfied that the judgment of this Court at the last term reversing the judgment of the Court below was correct and we see no reason for changing it.

But the order made at the last term omitted to show that a new trial was ordered, which was done. That order will be now made, and the motion for a re hearing overruled. Ellsworth for motion, Burris contra.

Sept 11th—Folger et al, respondents vs Robison et al, [illegible], from Lane county.

This was action for damages for injury to a dam done by [illegible] logs down a stream.

Held that a defence that some subjects appointed by the [illegible] and declared such stream navigable for [illegible] was not good; because whether a stream be [illegible] or not is a question of fact and not of law, and that would not be affected either way by an act of the [illegible] stream which at any time may be [illegible] for any purpose is at such time and for such [illegible], a navigable stream.

Johnson B. Peel vs. Wm G Hudson. From Jackson county.

This is a question concerning the validity of the will of [illegible] Peel.

Held that a mark or cross is a sufficient signing of [illegible] with this intent.

[illegible] —The Herald of Saturday in its commercial [illegible] into an error just as some weeks ago we did, [illegible] to the shipment of Oregon wool to California and its shipment back to Oregon. Upon such information as we deemed reliable, we stated some weeks ago that Oregon wool growers had been guilty of [illegible] wool to San Francisco rather than sell at [illegible]. Hence [illegible] that the same wool had been purchased and [illegible] back here at less cost than that asked by the [illegible]. The Herald now makes a similar [illegible]. We made the statement [illegible] with [illegible] of 30,000 pounds of wool shipped up from San [illegible] by the [illegible] woolen mills. Our attention has [illegible] to what the Farmer then said concerning the matter. We had not seen [illegible] the Manager of the Farmer whose specialty as a farmer is [illegible] went to see this same lot of wool upon its arrival, and was assured by Mr Hoyt, the [illegible], that it was California raised wool purchased for [illegible] cents and laid down at the factory for [illegible] cents per pound; that it was an inferior [illegible] and was bought for the purpose of manufacture [illegible]. The Farmer said in another place and in reply to our item, that no Oregon wool had been [illegible] by any of the factories. Since our attention has been called again to this matter we have been [illegible] by a prominent merchant of this place who keeps a very close eye upon the wool market because he [illegible] in wool and woolen manufactures, that he knows [illegible] where Oregon wool has been shipped back [illegible]. California wool [illegible] back in the same sacks in which Oregon wool had been previously shipped away, and this fact [illegible] at the bottom of the error into which we and our contemporary fell, one after the other.

THE PENNSYLVANIA COAL MINE DISASTER —It was [illegible] in the papers of Saturday morning that the [illegible] of the three daily papers would take up a collection [illegible] families of the men who lost their lives by the late terrible accident at the Avondale coal mine. Our citizens will be called upon to-day. All contributions will be acknowledged through the papers, and [illegible] with Ladd & Tilton, to be telegraphed [illegible] party for distribution. To this [illegible] and heartily endorse the following from [illegible] from Rev Mr Eliot in the Herald of [illegible]: "The heart of our community [illegible] with the recital of this calamity; [illegible] is a brotherhood of cities and States, as well as of [illegible] and neighbors. Can we then do a better thing [illegible] to send a generous gift to the living mourners [illegible] and nobly? Of one thing we may be [illegible] from no higher motive than that of [illegible] sympathy, charity and true patriotism, [illegible] a which will endear a community more to [illegible], than [illegible] which shows from time [illegible] of suffering humanity, however distant [illegible] by its citizens. But let us, in [illegible] in this case and in all others, [illegible], because it is manly and [illegible]. Could our churches send from their store, our [illegible] from their societies and their own [illegible] here, and the [illegible] and [illegible] dead would send back their blessings [illegible]."

[illegible] —A [illegible] of the Herald furnishes the following items from Astoria: The Gussie Telfair [illegible] the Bar Friday morning at 9½ o'clock.

The [illegible] of Astoria gave Mr. Seward a reception at [illegible] Hotel on Friday afternoon. Collector [illegible] Taylor and Mr Geo Ross were appointed by the town board to receive the distinguished stranger and [illegible] him to the hotel, where a large concourse of [illegible] to see him.

[illegible] a large and influential farmer in [illegible], is on a visit to Astoria. It is his first visit to the sea shore since he came to the country in [illegible].

[illegible] in Wisconsin —The Racine Journal has [illegible] notice of Mr. A. J. Dufur of this [illegible]. [illegible] some weeks ago: "We had the [illegible] of a call from Hon. A. J. Dufur, of Oregon, [illegible] of the State Agricultural Society. Mr. Dufur [illegible] partly on [illegible], but more particularly as [illegible] of the great State in which he resides [illegible] if possible in that direction, [illegible] with the agriculturists of the East (as he [illegible] of the different sections) to examine [illegible] mode of producing, and in brief to take a [illegible] survey of everything pertaining [illegible]. He has with him specimens of Oregon [illegible] and spring wheat, and such specimens [illegible] of this section would be surprised at the [illegible]. They are not specimens carefully selected, but [illegible] from the bin. We would advise all who contemplate [illegible] to the West to call on Mr. Dufur during [illegible] in the city, as he will be pleased to give them [illegible] on the subject, which may be of great value to them."

[illegible] —The weather put on Sunday clothes [illegible] and behaved itself most decorously. The [illegible] it was threatened Friday night has been [illegible].

THE COLFAX PARTY AT SALEM —Vice President Colfax [illegible], Bross arrived at Salem Friday afternoon, by [illegible] from Portland. They were met several miles below town by a deputation of citizens comprising the [illegible] of arrangements, and were escorted into [illegible] to the Capital Hotel, where were assembled [illegible]. Here they were welcomed by Mayor [illegible] for the city and Gov Woods for the State. A salute of [illegible] guns was fired upon their arrival. Mr [illegible] and the ladies of the party went up by steamer [illegible] City and arrived at Salem some hours later [illegible]. Mr. Colfax and Mr Bross made speeches [illegible] which was crowded to its utmost capacity. The [illegible] estimates that not less than 2,500 persons were in the house. At an early hour on Saturday [illegible] the party proceeded on their journey up the valley.

[illegible] IN REGISTERS —We copy the following item [illegible]: "Our hotels have new Registers handsomely bound and with elegant trimmings presented to them by an enterprising Insurance Agent who published his own card and a page full of cards of Salem merchants on [illegible] page, and leaves the other blank for the names of visitors. The only other thing necessary for his success is [illegible] in a daily paper." The above insurance man [illegible] to be Mr. D. Lindermann, General Agent for the coast for the "Washington Life Insurance [illegible] of New York," has also been here and made glad the landlords' hearts of five of our principal hotels with his elegant Registers, furnished them gratuitously. The [illegible] have their wish, and their paper [illegible] for the company. A similar one will [illegible] in this paper shortly.

EIGHT HOURS OF LABOR —On and after to-day, the eight hour labor system will be inaugurated by the Superintendent of construction of public buildings in Oregon, among all the employes upon such buildings. This is in pursuance of a proclamation by the President based upon the law of Congress. No reduction will be made in wages. The eight hour system is now a practical operation among all laborers for the Government through the instrumentality of a Republican Congress and a Republican President. Laboring men may make a note that while certain classes of demagogues are making loud [illegible] of concern for the poor laborer without doing anything, the present Congress and Administration are silently working out the practical amelioration of the poor man's [illegible].

[illegible] —The agent of the Great World Circus and Menagerie [illegible], is having a gorgeous enclosure made on the vacant block between Fourth and Fifth and Pine streets, for the [illegible] of the company when it shall arrive. This show is [illegible] gorgeous, if it is half as gorgeous under the canvas, it will be worth seeing.

IT IS [illegible] IN ARKANSAS —Somebody has sent us a copy of the Little Rock (Ark.) Liberal. Among other matters of local interest it has the list of premiums to be awarded at the annual State fair to be held in October next. At the first glance over it we were impressed with the [illegible] that it must be the Walla Walla whisky dealer's bill against G. A. Flanders, got into the wrong paper. The first premium offered is for blackberry wine, [illegible] wine, next lager beer, next ale, next porter, next whisky, etc. A few of the premiums are offered for minor articles such as horses, hogs, sheep, cattle, [illegible] wheat, etc., but these [illegible].

THE NORTHERN TELEGRAPH LINE —It affords us much gratification, says the [illegible], to state that the line [illegible] recently [illegible] by fire, have been replaced and that nothing [illegible] the laying of a [illegible] cable [illegible] to establish telegraphic communication which was severed nearly two months ago. The three constructors have been unwearying in their exertions [illegible] and to [illegible] that their labors [illegible] been crowned with [illegible] Mr. Pitts went [illegible] to arrange a [illegible] between the islands [illegible] place [illegible].

The appearance of these gentlemen [illegible] the management is sufficient guarantee that the ball will be an agreeable affair.

[illegible] —Mr. Quimby of the Exchange Hotel, went up to the Cascades [illegible] three days since on a hunting expedition and returned Saturday evening with a couple of bounding bucks, fat deer. One of them weighed dressed and without the [illegible] 180 pounds and was as fat as [illegible]. When Q. hunts he goes [illegible].

The California and Oregon Boundary Survey

[From the San Francisco Bulletin.]

In mentioning the completion of this survey it was incorrectly stated in the Portland telegram published in the Bulletin of the 1st inst., that the terminating point of the Boundary just established [illegible] six miles from the "old line." D. G. Major, U. S. Astronomer in charge of the work, informs us that the maximum difference between the boundary now determined and the old adopted line, is about a third of a mile. The California-Oregon line has never until recently, been established, surveyed and marked, but in 1866, for the purpose of settling questions of jurisdiction continually occurring in the rich mining districts adjacent, a temporary point on the coast was adopted and a line sighted over the mountains, east, some 40 miles, to the vicinity of Sailor Diggings and Althouse, very rich mining camps, in those days. This temporary line is what is designated as the "old line," and it proves to have been a close approximation.

In establishing the present boundary, five astronomical stations were determined along the 42d parallel, the most important being in Surprise Valley, near Camp Bidwell, where an observatory was erected and a series of astronomical observations taken, extending through three lunations, for the purpose of ascertaining the intersection of the 120th degree of longitude with the 42d parallel of latitude, a geographical position of much importance, it being the initial point of the California Nevada boundary and the Oregon line. Over three thousand observations were made at this place, from a rigorous discussion of which very close results were obtained for longitude, latitude, magnetic declination, and altitude above the sea. The initial point is marked by a large stone monument with an appropriate inscription, and is situated one and three quarter miles north, and five miles east of Camp Bidwell flag staff, near the military road to Fort Warner. Tracing the parallel west, for twelve miles, it traverses a high range of sparsely timbered mountains, the most elevated on the boundary. Rapidly descending the thirteenth mile monument is located in the rich and extensive valley of Goose Lake. Dividing it almost equally the line crosses this magnificent sheet of water here nine miles wide. Goose Lake is thirty five miles long, and will average seven miles wide. It abounds in fish and water fowl. The valley is one of the finest on the Pacific slope, and is rapidly filling up with an energetic population.

Following the line west from the lake it passes over a timbered and rocky district until Rhett Lake is reached at the sixty seventh mile. The northern portion of this lake is in Oregon. From thence to the waters of the lower Klamath Lake, at the eighth mile, there is about the only good agricultural land that is passed until reaching the coast. The Modock Indians inhabiting this country, are peaceable, industrious and generally well clad. The line traverses Klamath Lake 13 miles, thence ascending over a very broken, timbered country at 109 miles crosses Klamath river. It then takes over high rocky mountains cut by deep ravines and at 133 miles crosses the Oregon and California road just north of Cole's station, thence ascending to the summit of the Siskiyou mountain and leaving Hungry Creek mines in California, it crosses the head of Applegate Valley, and then over exceedingly rugged mountains passes five miles south of Althouse, crossing the Illinois river 134½ miles at the junction of its forks and about three miles south of Waldo. The termination of the old line is south of true parallel. From thence to the crossing of the Crescent City road at 195 mile monument, and so on to the Pacific Ocean the country is very mountainous, cut by deep ravines and almost impassable, because of dense woods, masses of fallen timber, heavy undergrowth and precipitous rocks. The termination of the line at the coast is near the mouth of Winchuck Creek, and the length of the boundary is 212¼ miles. Durable monuments of stone with properly marked posts were erected at the end of each mile where the locality permitted and the line is well blazed and marked through the timber.

In Indianapolis there are about 100 natives of Denmark. They have a church, numbering forty members, where the exercises are conducted in their own language.

There are now 600 men at work in the Portage Lake and Lake Superior Ship Canal in Wisconsin making it deeper and broader and taking out the sharp curves.

MONDAY MORNING, SEPT. 13 1869.

The Iron Market

The "commercial editor" of the Herald ade the following observations on Saturday, lative to the iron market:

We have in our city alone four iron foundries, ich, during the course of the year, consume a rge amount of iron, which they, as a general ing, buy in San Francisco, for the reason that ey can there purchase Oregon iron cheaper than ey can in Oregon. Why is it that the company Oswego cannot see that it would be to their in rest to sell here at San Francisco prices, freight lded? Iron, is quoted in San Francisco at 7 50 per ton. The freight on the same from ere to Portland is $4 50 per ton, making the rice per ton laid down here, a little over $42. king into account primage, etc. The Oswego mpany ask for their iron, at Oswego, $45 per , and freight from there here $1 per ton, akes the iron cost $46 per ton laid down here. herefore, it is obvious that the foundries will uy in the cheapest market, and the Oswego com any are left no other resource than to send their on to San Francisco for a market. And what is he consequence? That company has to sell at an Francisco prices, viz: $37 50, and is thus a oser from their home price of $7 50 per ton; and ot only that, but they must pay freight down, 4 50 per ton, making altogether a loss of $12 per n, not taking into account commissions, etc. nd this is altogether for the benefit of the Cali rnia merchant. How much better it would be r the company to compete with California in tead of playing into her hands. If they would ut down their home prices to the same as the oundries can purchase in California and bring ere for, say $42, they would be the gainer of ver $10 per ton, and that amount would be kept mongst us in trade, instead of going to enrich ur neighboring State.

This entire paragraph is a tissue of blunders, and was written in utter ignorance both of the general subject and of the particular facts relating to it. The Oswego Company sell their iron here at $42 50 per ton, instead of at $46. The iron they sell for use here is strictly No. 1, while that sold in San Francisco is generally of a lower grade. But even these lower grades of Oregon iron command at this time $37 50 in San Francisco, while Scotch pig at last reports was quoted at $32 and $34. It is well known that some time ago the iron market in San Francisco broke down completely, and it is just now beginning to recover. Last May Oregon iron of the same quality with that now selling in San Francisco for $37 50, commanded $44 in that city. But at the same time the Oswego Company were selling at their works a better grade of their iron to Oregon foundries for $45, thus giving our own consumers a decided advantage. Some of the foundrymen here assert that they would not buy at any price the quality of iron shipped by the Oswego Company to San Francisco, though that quality, as stated above, stands higher than Scotch pig in that market. Accordingly the very best of the Oswego iron has been reserved for home consumption, and it has been furnished here for the same price,—freight added,—which the lower grades have brought in San Francisco; and sometimes it has been furnished at even lower figures. The astute "commercial editor" of the Herald should remember that the Oswego Company is composed of business men who understand what they are about too well to pursue a policy which would result in a loss of $12 per ton on the iron they make. We doubt whether they will consider it any favor for him to attempt to show that that they are conducting their business in such a way as to lose money, injure the State and play into the hands of California. Precise information on subjects treated of is a good and handy thing for a commercial editor to pre [illegible]

If our foundries are purchasing Oregon iron in San Francisco cheaper than they can get it here, they are buying an inferior grade, and purchasing it of parties who by these operations are trying to crowd Oregon iron out of the market and stop its manufacture. But we do not credit the statement. The Herald has probably been imposed upon by an interested party.

A Striking Letter.

It will be remembered that General Rosecrans in his telegram declining the Democratic nomination for Governor of Ohio, provided that he would communicate with the Committee further by letter. We find by Eastern journals that this promise has been fulfilled. The General writes a long letter, filling more than two columns in the Cincinnati newspapers. After a few remarks as to his reasons for not accepting, he goes on to explain his idea of Democracy. "The Democratic party," says he, "ought to be a party of principle, a party of life, of action, and of progress. Fossils and fault-finders do not properly belong to the party, and if found in it ought to go on the retired list, leaving to its opponents, of all shades and grades, all narrow and sectional grounds, all monopolies and favoritism, based on class, creed, race, color, or national origin."

Having enunciated this general principle (which, by the way, is directly antagonistic to modern Democratic doctrine), he passes on to questions of public policy. The first subject touched is that of the national debt. He indicates his financial plan to be "the most prompt redemption of our bonds according to the law and equity of their issue." He shows his rejection of the greenback plan by the following passage:

> No local declarations inviting a popular prejudgment of any legal questions about the terms of payment of the national bonds should impair the priceless value of the public credit, at a time when it is all-important to create the speediest means of ridding the country of these enormous oppressions; but every Democratic platform should tend to raise higher and higher the public credit, and to satisfy the people of Europe that the Democratic party is the last party in the United States that proposes to whine or act reluctantly about the payment of the public debt, even though its present holders should have bought it below its fair value.

This is a tremendous slap in the face of the repudiators. Rosecrans might have done the Ohio Democracy a world of good by accepting their nomination and going before them to expound these wholesome doctrines. On the suffrage question he is even more heretical. He says that the true "Democratic idea favors a broad rather than a narrow suffrage," and that "it prefers giving the right of voting to manhood and qualifications which will tend to create bonds of political brotherhood between the rich and poor, based on mutual interests, and to avert conflicts between capital and labor." Should there be Democrats whose mental organization or temper does not permit them to recognize existing facts, or conform their action to great popular changes, "let them," says this free-spoken and most unwelcome witness, "abdicate the leadership and leave the energies of the people free to act in the line of life and progress."

This letter is a terrible rebuke to those to whom it is written. It shows how far they are below any recognized standard of patriotism, and explains to them why they are a defeated faction, a hopeless minority, instead of a proud, triumphant party.

A Lafayette, Indiana, correspondent writes to the Cincinnati Gazette that there is a corn field in Benton county, of 7,000 acres, in good condition, and growing splendidly.

In General

The awards to the Hudson's Bay Company for claims in Oregon and Washington Territory, amount to $450,000. To the Puget Sound Agricultural Company is awarded the sum of $200,000. The first named Company claimed the immense sum of $3,822,036 67. The amount awarded them is something less than one-eighth of the sum claimed, but still it is too much. For their posts and farms they demanded $1,386,703 they claimed nearly $1,500,000 for their right to navigate the Columbia river, and wanted $1,000,000 for their right to trade. The Puget Sound Agricultural Company claimed $1,168,000 for certain rocky and unproductive lands in the Sound country, and the Commission has awarded them a little over one-sixth of their claim, which is certainly enough. Two hundred thousand dollars in gold would to-day buy up nearly the whole extent of land in that region. It is gratifying, however, to learn that these claims have been so greatly reduced, and that this huge attempt to swindle has not met with the success that was expected.

The broad, liberal and statesman-like views expressed by Mr. Seward in his Salem speech relative to the policy we should pursue as respects immigration and intercourse with foreign nations, are peculiarly appropriate at this time, when demagogues are urging a policy of seclusion that would shut out immigration from and cut off our intercourse with half the population of the world. "No State or nation," says this eminent statesman, "has ever flourished that was unsocial, inhospitable or intolerant." Mr. Seward has witnessed the effort which is being made in our Pacific States to cut off commercial intercourse with the nations of Asia and to drive their people inhospitably from our shores, and he warns us, as we regard our future progress, not to give encouragement to such a narrow idea. It is contrary to the spirit of the age. The whole tendency of modern civilization is against it. The American people will not tolerate such an idea and such a policy. The Pacific States will stand in their own light if they vainly try to force such a policy on the nation.

Democrats are crowing lustily about their victory in California, but it is a striking fact that their vote throughout the State is much smaller than it was last year. This shows that the Republicans were entirely apathetic and did not deem the occasion worth making an effort for. Had they polled their full vote they would have swept the State. It is a well known fact that except on great occasions Democrats more nearly poll out their full vote than Republicans do. Yet even the full Democratic vote was not out in the late election. To give instances from the returns before us: The vote thrown last year in San Francisco for Seymour was 13,582; in the late election the highest vote for any candidate on the Democratic ticket was 12,237, while several ran down to scarcely more than 10,000. In Tuolumne county the vote for Seymour was 1,115, while the vote for the Democratic candidates for the Legislature in the election just held was 892. In Yuba county Seymour had 1,112 votes, while the largest number thrown in the late election for a Democratic candidate was 1,066. There are few exceptions to rule of reduction throughout the State. The truth is, general issues are in abeyance or considered settled, and little interest will be taken by the Republicans in the elections this year. It is a significant fact that Democrats never carry elections on those occasions when anything can be gained by it. When great issues are at stake the Republicans go in and win.

John Bell, of Tennessee, whose death is announced, was in many respects a remarkable man. For many years he exerted a powerful influence in Tennessee politics, and maintained himself even against the great weight of Gen. Jackson's power. He was born in Nashville in 1797; was elected to the State Senate when only 20 years old; in 1826 beat Felix Grundy, one of the most popular men in the State, for Congress; was re-elected successively for fourteen years; was speaker in 1834; opposed Van Buren for President in 1836, and succeeded in giving the vote of the State to Judge White, though Van Buren was supported by the whole strength of Jackson's administration; was himself elected to Congress at the same time from Gen. Jackson's district, and more than any other man secured the ascendency of the Whig party in Tennessee until the final dissolution of that organization after the defeat in 1852. He was He was appointed Secretary of War under Harrison, but resigned on the separation of Tyler from the Whig party; was elected to United States Senate in 1847, and was reelected in 1853. Mr. Bell strongly opposed the Nebraska bill of 1854, and combatted the whole series of measures advocated by the Democratic party in the interest of slavery, declaring that they would lead to the overthrow of the Union. He was a candidate for President in 1860, on a sort of "American," "Conservative," "Union" platform, and received the electoral vote of several Southern States. But when the Breckinridge Democracy began to shout for secession the Bell-Unionists forgot their pledges and joined with them. Bell himself had not courage to stand against the secession movement, though he might have done much to check it; and, after a good deal of vacillation his influence was finally thrown on the side of the rebellion, though he took no active or leading part in it. But his conduct in this crisis has darkened his fame. For the last eight years of his life he lived in obscurity, unnoticed and forgotten.

Northern Pacific Railroad.

The following is an extract from the report of Elwin F. Johnson, Engineer-in-Chief of the N P. R R made by him to the President and Directors of said road, in April, 1869, from a final report of General Tilton's surveys of the Cascade range of mountains in November, 1867. From this it will be seen that the new town of Tacoma on Commencement Bay, is not far from the objective point where the main trunk will reach the Sound after passing through the Snoqualmie Pass, which latter appears to be adopted by the company as the most eligible for the construction of a railroad, and this town Tacoma is located on the south side of Commencement Bay, at the mouth of Puyallup river, about 20 miles south of Seattle.

"The Cowlitz Pass was found to be 4 210 feet above the level of the sea, or about 1,100 feet higher than the Snoqualmie Pass.

"If the main line of the road east of the Columbia river is brought to that river at a point near the mouth of the Yakima, the distance from this point to a point on Puget Sound, 20 miles south of Seattle (Tacoma), it is found to be about 50 miles longer by Cowlitz, than by Snoqualmie pass line, while this latter has greatly the advantage in a less elevation of its summit, in a less extent of maximum grade, in curvature and probable cost.

"It is supposed that the main line from where it meets the shore of the Sound, as proposed, 20 miles south of Seattle (Tacoma) will, in its course north from that point, make connections with, navigable waters of the Sound at all eligible points. By such a location, the important portions of the Territory will be best accomodated, the most possible will be made of the Land Grant, as the distance of 40 or 50 miles on the east side of the line of the road, will cover all the valuable territory on the western slope of the Cascade range, etc."

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

LONDON, Sept 11.—A letter in the telegraph says that Lord Byron did not meet Mrs. Leigh from the period before his marriage until after the separation of Lady Byron.

The Times compares the French revolution of 1848 with the present revolution in Spain. In the former, the people ruled. When the power was given to General Cavaignac it was turned against the people's sovereignty. After a short but terrific struggle felt in Spain the army governs; yet the army although ruling, has neither conquered nor fought for its power. A struggle with the people is always imminent, but the contending forces are unequal. The odds are against the people. Among the Spanish statesmen there is no Cavaignac. They try strategem, corruption and surprise, but dare not employ force. The revolution has hardly moved a step. The whole affair lies in a nutshell. As from the beginning, the question is still whether the army or people are to have the upper hand.

The Times in an article on Turkish and Egyptian affairs, trusts that the controversy will have the effect to improve the relations of the Sultan and Viceroy. The jealousy of the Porte was excited more by suspicion than by actions. The Viceroy having given assurances and the Porte having conveyed warning to Turkey and Egypt, they may yet agree well. If the advice addressed by each to the other be followed by both, it will be better for Europe.

The Bishop of Exeter will resign as soon as arrangements for the change are completed.

LONDON, Sept 11.—A Paris letter published here to-day, says rumors of a possible abdication foreshadows that it is not an impossible event, as the Emperor is liable to have a return of his sickness which incapacitates him for business. Many think his son's majority will be proclaimed on his next birthday.

MADRID, Sept. 11.—Disorders have been quelled in the city and country is tranquil. The government has advised Prim that his speedy return is unnecessary.

The Imperial newspapers to-day publishes a letter to day from Fish, the American Secretary, to Hale, and comments favorably upon it.

One thousand six hundred troops are ready to sail for Cuba.

Small bands of Carlists are reported in Catalonia and troops have been sent in pursuit.

PARIS, Sept 11.—The official newspapers today announce that Napoleon is well.

It is rumored that the Regency of Serrano will be extended. It is gaining ground in Spain and all parties favor the proposition.

LISBON, Sept. 11.—Dates from Rio Janeiro are to the 29th of July.

According to the Paraguayans' account, a sharp engagement occurred between the Brazilians and Paraguayans, in which 200 of the former and 60 of the latter were killed. Owing to the unfavorable nature of the ground, the Paraguayans were unable to pursue them. News from Brazilian sources say that the allies were continuing preparations to attack Lopez in force.

A writer in to day's Standard, says that Mr. McMahon, U. S. Minister to Paraguay, denies the charges recently brought against Lopez. He says that Lopez is intelligent, polished, courageous and conversant with European manners and diplomacy.

Only two or three Englishmen desire to leave Paraguay, but are too timid to express the wish.
